

The Eichenbaum GmbH offers an internship in Gotha/Thuringia

Eichenbaum was founded in 1996 in Gotha, which is an unique town with a long history, right in the center of Germany. Since 2011 we also have an office in Erfurt, the capital of the federal state of Thuringia.

We are a private consulting company with activities in terms of all aspects related to human resources; employed or unemployed.

Currently 20 employees are part of the team. They are working in 11 different projects for regional and national authorities.

The main focus of our activities is on:

- assistance of SME in change management processes
- development, realisation und evaluation of professional training activities
- development and realisation of local, regional and transnational networks and projects
- consulting of start ups
- development of training and integration projects for unemployed persons

We are looking for a person with an academic degree in education, psychology or sociology, which is interested in all aspects of education and international work and exchange.

We offer a paid internship in our main office in Gotha within a young and high skilled team. This internship should last at least 3 months.

Your qualifications are:

- academic degree in media and communication science or similar degree
- good language skills in English language (European Level B2 or C1)
- basic skills in German language
- first experiences in new media
- a willingness to learn the German language

Your tasks:

- taking part in a project to develop and to realize an international recruitment strategy for SME
- support of the national and international public relation activities
- support of the project team

We offer you:

- interesting work at international projects
- young and cooperative team
- support to find a accommodation

If you are interested in this internship, please send us your full CV, certificates and contact by email to info@eichenbaum.de.